“ To the family:

I know with life comes death but I felt like I lost My Father all over again. And I truly loved my dad more then life itself

I kissed Papa Bowie goodbye tonight and felt he knew I was there

Not gonna make it tomorrow but I did want to share my thoughts;

Papa Bowie was special to me. He mentored me, coached me, gave me advice, corrected me when I was wrong, praised me when I was right and loved me like I was his own.

He left his legacy as my life coach, taught me how to play ball and coached me to be competitive, he was a person who instilled in me everything he expected from his own children, he shared his entire family with me who I grew to love, he shared his beautiful family & wife with me (Mama Bowie) who was as special to me as he was. I think of her often and still have the letter she wrote me while she was in SC at a time I needed to be uplifted.

Lastly he was a true man of God and like my parents, taught me to live right and care for others.

His Barbecue ribs and sauce was the best growing up and He always had jars for me to take back to Atlanta every time I came home. That was so special and my friends there looked forward to getting some.

I could write a book about them both and how they both touched my life. I know many people could write a chapter or two but mine would be a best seller!

I guess what I'm trying to say; his presence is gone but the footprints of his spirit is forever engraved in my heart.

Thanks to all of you for sharing and allowing me to love him like he was my dad, cause it felt like that.

A father figure GOD gifted to me!

Again, thank you lord, for this man I called Papa Bowie and Ole Dude. May you Rest

In Peace as we celebrate your life and legacy.

Love always to my family, The Bowie's

“ Tribute to "Father Bob"

You were another Father to so many as we ran the bases,
Filling times and growing strong as we learned some valuable graces.
Thank you for spending all that time and giving us the spark,
To succeed, to contribute, to share and to endure beyond our City Park.
We know you're still observing us, even from the heaven above.
Listen to our collective cheer of respect, of thanks, of love!
