“ The world we live in today is riddled with many situations where we need comfort; The hardest of all is that of losing a loved one to death. You may find it comforting to know that at John 11:11 death is compared to a peaceful sleep. We are assured that just as a person who is asleep is unaware of what is happening around him, the dead is not conscious of anything. The Bible can offer much needed comfort fo those who are grieving and even gives hope with God's promise to bring the dead back to life.
