“ I may have only known Barber J for four years, but we have had plenty of conversations about everything. We were supposed to meet up and then his first surgery happened. Then we were planning on a later date and then I got the news he gained his angel wings. My deepest condolences to all his family members and close friends. Unfortunately I won't be able to make his funeral, due to being so far away and not the best transportation. I will definitely keep you all in my prayers. Rest easy best friend! 🙏🕊️🕯️
