“ *Dear God,
You've taught us that there is a purpose for all things and a season for living. Today, we celebrate the life of Mary Frances Culpepper and say thank you for having letting us share her spirit. Thank you God for giving us the time we had with her to enjoy her and all of the lessons that relationships give us. This pandemic is making it so hard to accept grieving in this way. Nothing is normal anymore on this earth. But what is normal is that the love of God persists. God, you have taught us to look beyond the moment and seek the deeper meaning. We pray that her friends and loved ones find peace that passes all understanding and by doing so that our living constantly reminds us of the moments of joy that Mary brought. Give us the strength to share those beautiful moments and celebrate her life. In your name we pray, Steve, Baraka and Malaika Culpepper.*
